

Recovery & Me Voices from Soberstock 2009

I got clean on 10-11-07. Life was what I was missing and did not know how to live. I asked someone or something to please help me to live the right way. I was tired, old, and could not bear to live that way any longer.

I never once thought I would go to jail where I had passed through horrible things like which person I would have to fight if they tried to violate me.

But today I am thankful to be 23 months clean.
